Accommodations

The Big Hole C4 Lodge is located on a working ranch, owned and operated by Dave and Cindy Ashcraft and family. Guests of the lodge will not only have the finest fly fishing vacation imaginable, but also may witness the daily routines of ranch work through the owners. Activities like feeding, branding, caring for livestock, haying, trailing cattle, and everything in between happen on a daily basis here. As a guest of the Big Hole C4 Lodge, you will better understand the "true meaning of Montana".

From the river rock fireplace to the hand peeled log furniture, the Big Hole C4 Lodge is the true Montana experience. While staying at the lodge you will enjoy private sleeping quarters separate from the main lodge, each with a full bath and two queen sized beds. Our rooms are cozy and western, and are extremely spacious and easily equipped to store all of your gear.

After a long day of catching trout, there is nothing in the world like coming home to an enormous home cooked meal. All of our meals consist of only the finest ingredients; in order to insure top quality, we use only 100% Montana raised Angus beef in our entrees. Please don't forget to save room for dessert - items like homemade pies and pastries will finish off the perfect meal.

The lodge sleeping quarters are equipped with large picture windows; our views are right off a postcard - lush meadows bordered by mountains with two spring creeks meandering on either side of the lodge. It is extremely common to see deer in the mornings, just outside your bedroom window. This log cabin style of decor and ambiance coupled with amazing scenery is what makes our lodge so authentic and unique.

Our Rivers

If you are looking for superior accommodations in the heart of Montana's best fly fishing country, this is it. The Big Hole River surrounds our property, with two challenging spring creeks meandering through the middle. You never have to leave the ranch to have access to great trout fishing.

♦ The Big Hole, Beaverhead, Ruby and Jefferson Rivers are less than fifteen minutes away, which means more fishing and less driving.

♦ As a lodge guest you will always receive a superb breakfast, lunch for on the river, and a wonderful portion of 100% Montana raised Angus beef for dinner.

Our fly fishing guides are veterans of the Upper Missouri Headwaters. With their exceptional fishing experience, our elite guides are accustomed to teaching anglers of any age and skill. They are extremely informed on the current hatch and will assist in fly selection so that you can draw out the big catch. Our guides will also ensure that your experience off the water is as comfortable as possible and that all of your requests and needs are met.

Our lodge is fortunate to have access to the most secluded part of the Big Hole River. Located downstream from Pennington Bridge, it is extremely uncommon to see another angler while fishing our property. Due to the lack of angling pressure, large trout often make this section of water their home.
